

KEYNOTE PRESENTATION Make Your Mark! Tire Tracks on the Tundra

The tundra of the High Arctic is a fragile place. Tracks and trails and evidence of human passage last forever.

Every day, each one of us makes indelible marks on the lives of others. What mark are you making?

Do you take every opportunity to learn, never knowing when you might need to put your knowledge to the test? You may after listening to this presentation. Be intrigued, be encouraged, be challenged, and be ready to make your mark. Amazing Arctic stories of lessons learned through survival in the harsh Arctic Spring.

This inspiring presentation is appropriate for all audiences both youth and adult. Freddi takes you on a journey of the life of a recruiter flying from camp to community in the Western Arctic region of Canada with adventures and lessons learned from her life along the way. She challenges and inspires us all to become lifelong learners.

Time: 45 – 60 minutes

Travel: Freddi travels from Southern Alberta and is available country wide.

Permission: is given to video tape the presentation for internal distribution. A copy for Freddi is requested.

Freddi Dogterom CPT PRP CCDP

Ph 403.892.7879
freddi@freddispeaks.com
FreddiSpeaks.com

